[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 2, 1868.

SENATE.

Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN reported from the Committee on Naval Affairs a joint resolution to admit certain persons to the Naval Academy. It authorizes the Secretary of the Navy to receive for instruction at the Naval Academy not exceeding six persons, to be designated by the government of Japan, provided no expense to the United States is involved.

Mr. EDMUNDS introduced a bill to fix the time for the next meeting of Congress, viz: third Monday in November next. Placed on the Calendar.

Mr. PATTERSON, N. H., from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, reported a bill to promote the efficiency of the diplomatic and consular service of the United States.

Mr. HOWARD presented the credentials of A. S. Welsh, recently elected Senator from Florida, who came forward and was sworn, and took a seat at the extreme left, beside Mr. McDonald of Arkansas.

Mr. HOWE called up the bill to extend the time for the completion of the West Wisconsin Railroad. Passed.

Mr. CONNESS called up the bill relating to the Western Pacific Railroad. The bill grants the use of the Island of Yerba Buena, in the Harbor of San Francisco, as it is not required for military purposes.

After a number of amendments to the bill had been made, it was passed—28 to 8.

An evening session was provided for for the consideration of private bills.

The Civil Appropriation Bill was taken up, the question being on the amendment of Mr. Patterson, of New Hampshire, to direct certain payments to be made to Maine and Massachusetts to carry out the Ashburton treaty.

Mr. BUCKALEW offered a proviso, which, after debate, was rejected, and the amendment of Mr. Patterson agreed to.

Mr. PATTERSON, Tennessee, offered an amendment, which was agreed to, appropriating $25,000 to the Secretary of the Treasury to enlarge lots in the City of Nashville, Tennessee, for the erection of a Court House.

The bill having passed through the Committee of the Whole, on motion of Mr. HOWE the yeas and nays were taken on the amendment striking out the appropriation of $250,000 for deficiency in the fund for the relief of sick and disabled seamen. The appropriation was retained by a vote of 11 to 20. The bill then passed.

The motion for evening session was almost unanimously reconsidered on account of the intense heat, the thermometer being at eighty-seven degrees.

Mr. JOHNSON introduced a bill granting $7,000 to the ladies of Mount Vernon Association, which was referred to the Committee on Claims.

Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. HOOPER, from the Committee of Ways and Means, reported a bill to collect ten per cent. on United States bonds, by making six per cent interest five and four-tenths per cent., and five per cent. four and five-tenths, and three per cent. two and seventh-tenths. The report declares the Committee does not approve the bill, and that they only report it in obedience to the orders of the House. The bill and report were ordered to be printed and referred to Committee of the Whole.

Mr. BUTLER, of Massachusetts, asked leave to introduce a bill to equalize taxation and reduce the public debt, proposing a funding system of perpetual four per cent. annuities, payable in gold and untaxable.

Mr. RANDALL objected.

Mr. STEVENS, Pa., from the Reconstruction Committee, reported a bill to provide for the erection of not more than two additional States out of the territory of the State of Texas. Ordered printed and recommitted.

The bill reported yesterday from the Committee on Private Land Claims to restore to certain parties their rights under the laws and treaties of the United States, was taken up.

Mr. STONE, who had charge of the bill, accepted the amendment suggested yesterday by Mr. Johnson, saving the rights of settlers under the pre-emption or homestead laws.

After considerable discussion the bill was passed.

The Senate amendments to a large number of pension bills were non-concurred in and referred to Conference Committee.

Mr. BANKS gave notice that on Tuesday next he would move to go into Committee of the Whole on the Alaska bill. This postpones the bill till that day.

The House went into Committee of the Whole and took up the Senate amendments to legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

Mr. BLAINE addressed the Committee on the financial condition of the country.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, stated that the Senate had made two hundred and twenty-seven amendments. The Committee recommended concurrence in fifty, and non-concurrence in the remainder.

The Committee then proceeded to vote on the amendments one by one.

The first amendment of importance was to strike out of the item for paying judgments of Court of Claims a proviso that no judgments exceeding five thousand dollars should be paid. Considerable debate arose and finally the Senate amendment was concurred in and the proviso struck out.

Various amendments for the increase of clerks in several departments were non-concurred in.

The amendment abolishing the office of Director of Statistics was concurred in, with an amendment making it effective from July 1st, 1869.

On the Senate amendment appropriating $20,000 for the Department of Education the Committee recommended non-concurrence. On this a long debate ensued.

Finally the amendment was non-concurred in.

After debate the amendment allowing government advertisements to be published in a third paper in Washington was agreed to.

The next amendment that gave rise to debate was that in reference to the publication of debates in Congress in the Congressional Globe, and requiring the Joint Committee on Printing to advertise for proposals for this work.

Mr. DONNELLY moved to amend the Senate amendment, that after the 4th of March, 1869, unless previously otherwise ordered, the debates shall be published daily in the Government Printing Office.

Mr. WASHBURNE made a point of order on the amendment, which was overruled, and the Committee rose to close the debate on the section, and without again going into Committee, at five o'clock adjourned, with the understanding that it would meet at eleven o'clock to-morrow morning, and that there would be no session on Saturday.

NEW YORK.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Judge Chase will Support the Nominee—Arrival of the Pendleton Escort—Gen. Cass and the Vice Presidency—Frank P. Blair on the Situation.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 2.—It is stated that a letter has been received here from Judge Chase, in which he announces his determination to support the nominee of the Democratic Convention, whoever he may be.

The New Hampshire delegation arrived this morning. All the New England delegates will be here by to-morrow evening.

The Pendleton escort arrived to-day. Appearances indicate Pendleton to have the most positive strength, but not, it is judged, sufficient to insure his nomination. There is no probability of a repeal of the two-thirds rule.

The Indiana delegation held a meeting at the St. Nicholas to-day, and organized by the choice of Fitch as chairman.

The statement that Hendricks had declined is erroneous, and the Indiana delegation will support him, on it becoming evident that Pendleton cannot be nominated. The position is, that Indiana having been a former part of the Pendleton column, cannot in good faith desert, but Hendricks does not refuse the use of his name in case of need in the cause of harmony, and the Indiana delegation will doubtless vote for him after the first ballot.

The New York delegation held an informal meeting at the St. Nicholas, at noon today, Samuel J. Tilden in the Chair. There was a unanimous expression for Seymour. He, however, personally declined to allow the use of his name as a candidate by the New York delegation. Considerable discussion followed, Mr. Tilden taking a leading part, counseling delay of action. One delegate proposed to take a vote on Chase, but found no supporter, and by nearly a unanimous vote of the delegation adjourned till to-morrow for consultation with newly arriving delegates from abroad. Gov. Seymour's position is apparently that he will not permit the use of his name by the New York delegation, and will only take the nomination if spontaneously tendered him.

Most of the delegates here appear confident of success in November, and the first choice of many, and the second of nearly all, is Hendricks.

Strong efforts are making to secure the vote of the delegation, and the support of George W. Cass, of Pittsburgh, for Vice President, by the Pendleton men in return is promised.

George W. Woodward was elected Chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation.

Frank P. Blair has sent a letter to Col. Broadhead, in which he leaves it to him, after consultation with Blair's friends, whether his name shall be presented to the Democratic Convention. Blair says: "There is but one way to restore the Government and the Constitution, and that is for the President elect to declare the reconstruction acts null and void, compel the army to undo its usurpations at the South, disperse the carpet-bag State Governments, allow the white people to reorganize their own Governments, and elect Senators and Representatives. The House of Representatives will contain a majority of Democrats from the North and they will admit the Representatives elected by the white people of the South, and with the co-operation of the President it will not be difficult to compel the Senate to submit once more to the obligations of the Constitution. It will not be able to withstand public judgment if distinctly expressed on this fundamental issue, and it is the sure way to avoid future strife to put this issue plainly to the country. I repeat that is the real and the only question which we should allow to control us. Shall we submit to the usurpations by which the Government has been overthrown, or shall we exert ourselves for its full and complete restoration? It is idle to talk of greenbacks, gold, the public faith and the public credit. What can a Democratic President do in regard to any of these with a Congress in both branches controlled by the carpet baggers and their allies? He will be powerless to stop the supplies by which idle negroes are organized into political clubs, on which an army is maintained to protect those vagabonds in their outrages upon the ballot. These, and things like these, eat up the resources of the Government, and destroy its credit, make the difference between gold and greenbacks. We must restore the Constitution before we can restore the finances, and to do this we must have a President who will execute the will of the people, by trampling into dust the usurpations of Congress known as the reconstruction acts. I wish to stand before the Convention on this issue; but it is one which embraces everything else that is of value in its large and comprehensive results. It is the one thing that includes all that is worth a contest, and without it there is nothing that gives dignity, honor or value to the struggle."

The Maryland and part of the Illinois delegations arrived this afternoon. The former talk mildly in favor of Chase.

The Pendleton escort was not enthusiastically received on their arrival to-day.

Francis P. Blair, Sr., speaks in Fourteenth street, in the vicinity of Tammany Hall, to-morrow night.

The Southern delegations hold a general meeting to-morrow to decide upon the course they will pursue. The talk at the principal hotels to-night favor a ticket with Hendricks and Hancock for President and Vice President.

The Kentucky delegation held a private meeting to-day. The majority favors Pendleton.

The Kansas delegates held a meeting for organization to night. The majority will support Pendleton as long as there is a chance for his nomination. It is said one or two votes will be cast for Johnson on the first ballot.

The Missouri delegation are said to be divided between Blair and Pendleton.

Report says a letter is in private circulation committing Chase to advanced Democratic principles.

Tammany Hall was visited by tens of thousands to-day. Inside and outside is covered with flags and streamers, and encomiums upon its appearance are in all mouths.

Report says there was to-day a conference between the New York and Ohio delegations, the former expressing themselves in favor of Hendricks, and that the Ohio delegates stated if they had no eastern man to propose it was no use speaking of Hendricks, as Pendleton was the sole choice of the West. The Ohio delegates claim Pendleton will receive 386 votes on the first formal ballot.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 2, 1868.

BILL TO TAX BONDS.

The Committee of Ways and Means reported to the House to-day the following bill, in obedience to the order of the House, saying, however, that it is contrary to their own best judgment. They reserve to themselves the right as members of the House to oppose in every possible way the adoption of a measure which they regard as hostile to the public interest and injurious to the national character.

"A bill to authorize an internal tax on the interest on bonds and other securities of the United States.

The Ways and Means Committee have reported to the House a bill imposing a tax of ten per cent. on interest of Government bonds. The Committee strongly protest against the adoption of the bill which they had been instructed to prepare, thinking it a violation of the national contracts, and tending to injure the public credit, and to seriously damage the reputation of the people of the United States for honesty and good faith. Whatever fate this bill meets with in the House, it is considered certain that it cannot pass the Senate.

Joint conciliatory overtures were made to-day, the Democrats taking the initiative.

The joint resolution ratifying the fourteenth amendment was adopted.

Twelve Democratic members of the House were sworn in.

Another effort to have the House organized according to the roll of the Commanding General failed. Several Democrats presenting themselves to be sworn, were informed that their seats were contested, they being previously ignorant of the fact.

A Gushing Invitation.

Who can withstand this gushing invitation from the editor of the Monongahela Republican, addressed to our citizens. He says "Come up here, ye who dwell upon that baked biscuit, hot and puffy, where the streets smell like a furnace flue, and the air is filled with dust and coal tar, ye smoked and tired dwellers in Pittsburgh,—come up here and see us. Come up the Monongahela, where groves are breezy and cool; where bright streams braid their silver chains along the vales, where hills rise rugged, woody, majestic, frowning, but inviting with green smiles the brave-hearted to their gracious solitudes; where torrents flash and foam, where wild flowers peep from mossy banks; where the partridges drum and the quails whistles, in quiet spots where great elms swing their graceful boughs, where the sugar maple sheds her liberal blood in spring, but none the less heaps up her magnificent pyramids of verdure, pile on pile, in summer, or when the pine tree shakes her beautiful green hair, tossing her murmurous cones in the morning breeze, and scents all the groves with her fragrant breath; where there is a meeting-house or two, with ambitious spires struggling up towards the heavens; where there are old-fashioned Sabbath bells, and clean, shaded streets, and plenty of village maids—Yes! come and see us!" Just think, all this invitation at a time when navigatiun is closed on the river, and Monongahela City is beyond the reach of the other world.

Boiler Explosion—Man Killed.

We stated in yesterday's GAZETTE that a boiler of a stationary engine near Titusville had exploded, killing the engineer, but were unable to state the particulars of the affair. The Titusville Herald contains the following facts relative to the accident. About half past one o'clock on Tuesday morning the boiler at the Fertig well No. 2, Tallman Farm, exploded from low and bad water in it, causing the instant death of one of the engineers, Edgar T. Murray, and slightly wounding another, Frank Fertig, who had just come to relieve the former. Mr. Murray was standing in front of the fire-box, at the steam gauge. He was blown about forty-five yards to the front, while the boiler went in the opposite direction about the same distance, tearing the engine house and derrick to the ground, and passing through a small tank of oil. Mr. Murray was a single man, abut twenty-four years of age. His parents reside at Oil City.

Oil Items.

The Fee well, says the Titusville Herald, on Upper Cherry Run, which was torpedoed last week, and started flowing at the rate of eleven hundred barrels per day, was not producing more than from four hundred and fifty to five hundred barrels on Saturday evening last. The Spear well, which was producing largely, and which stopped when the Fee well commenced flowing, has not been resuscitated as yet.

The Comy well on the Tallman Farm, Upper Cherry Run, was searched by Dale's crevice searcher and torpedoed, last week, and the result of these operations was that the production increased from five barrels to one hundred barrels per day.

A new well was struck last week on the McClintock Petroleum Company's property, between Lower Cherry Run and Oil Creek. On Saturday it was producing at the rate of thirty barrels per day.

—A disturbance occurred last week at Freedmen's Village, Virginia. It seems that Mr. Howard, Superintendent of the village, ordered the removal of the hog pens in the village, they being a nuisance, and attempted to carry out the order, when the negroes, armed with razors and clubs, resisted and wounded two or three white men engaged in superintending the village. Among the wounded are an assistant surgeon, a clerk and Mr. Howard—not the General. Five or six negroes were arrested and confined in the Alexandria jail. A company of regulars is now camped at Freedmen's Village preserving order.

SUMMER AND AUTUMN.

BY GEORGE ARNOLD.

Gorgeous leaves are whirling down;
Homeward comes the scented hay!
O'er the stubble, sear and brown,
Flaunt the autumn flowers:
But alas!
Summers pass—
Like our joys, they pass away!

Fanned by many a balmy breeze,
In the spring I love to lie
'Neath the newly budded trees,
Gazing upward to the sky;
But alas!
Time will pass
And the flowers of spring must diet

Oft my maiden sat with me,
Listening to the thrush's tone,
Warbled forth from every tree
Ere the meadow hay was mown;
But alas!
Summers pass—
Now, I wander all alone!

Love, like the summer time, is fair,
Decked with buds and blossoms gay;
But upon the autumn air
Floats a voice, which seems to say,
Loves, alas!
Also pass,
As the summers, pass away!

—Long-tailed coats have succeeded the short ones in Paris, and trousers are made very tight at the knees and quite loose below. Low crowned hats, low vests and ruffled shirts are also modish.

—Bonner, than whom there is probably no man in the world fonder of horses, does not approve of horse racing, and refuses to become a member of the Fordham Club, and will not attend their races.

—T. W. Robertson, the English dramatist, (?) is being very unfavorably and deservedly criticised in the English papers. He certainly does not seem to possess the talent he gives himself credit for.

—The Cincinnati Enquirer says that an immense tide of travel has set towards New York, and that all are going for Pendleton and greenbacks. There is a possibility of a mistake from the Enquirer.

—St. John's College, at Annapolis, Md., was established in 1784, and since that time has conferred the degree of LL. D. but five times. Hon. Reverdy Johnson, who is the fifth person thus honored received the degree last week.

—Democratic papers are undoubtedly very severe, or at least they think they are, when they speak of the General as Hiram U. Grant. The truth is that the U. S. are hateful to them, either as representing Unconditional Surrender or United States.

—Rumors are again rife to the effect that Baron Von Beust was poisoned by the Conservative party in Austria. This party is charged with the death of the Emperor Joseph II, whose plans are in many instances being perfected by the great, little Premier.

—Niagara is again becoming a fashionable resort for Southerners. The faces which were once so familiar there are once more to be seen with the added weight of seven years upon their heads, wandering about corridors and porticoes of the Cataract and Clifton Houses.

—Every town, little and big, in the whole country seems to be preparing to publicly celebrate the fourth. Pittsburgh, however, is doing nothing of the kind, and we think very properly, for public celebrations are in general great bores, and when left to himself a man can generally find congenial relaxation.

—At the Paris races the Princess Metternich wore a light salmon poult, covered with Valenciennes. A lady seated in her carriage wore the new style of bonnet now fairly started. It is only a fanchon, but put on so that the part over the chignon stands up and, being trimmed with lace, looks something like a huge cock's comb. Some, instead of lace, wore a high curling ostrich feather, white or maize.

—A German stone mason in Cincinnati, named Johann Vetter, shot himself through the breast with a pistol on Tuesday afternoon while his wife and children were at a pic nic. He left a letter behind in which he said: "The main reason for my rash act is rheumatism, which makes me unfit for my profession of stone mason, This sickness renders my life bitter and hard. I hope my friends and acquaintances will not reproach me for it, because there is plenty of cripples left."

—The Cincinnati Enquirer moans over the demoralization of the Republican party and says that "three well known Radical Senators appeared in their places in a state of gross intoxication. They are all strong supporters of the party of moral ideas, and voted for the conviction of the President." If this paper goes on this way about men in a party in which it has no interest, we can't think what damage it may not do itself in lamenting oper the derelictions of Mr. Saulsbury or of the escort whose train was so fully liquored on its road from the Enquirer office to New York to vote for Pendleton. If the journal really is so shocked by drunkenness, why don't it distribute its temperance tracts at home?

An appraisement of the property of James Buchanan has been filed in the Register's office at Lancaster, Pa. It appears by this that the total effects of the ex-President amount to something over $330,000. According to an act of Assembly five per cent. of Mr. Buchanan's estate goes to the State as collateral inheritance tax. It is estimated that he, during the last few years of his life, gave away from $50,000 to $90,000 to his brother Rev. E. Y. Buchanan, and his niece, Mrs. Harriet L. Johnson, a portion of that presented to Mrs. Johnson being in Southern securities. A striking feature in the inventory is the absence of all United States securities.

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, July 2, 1868.

CATTLE.

There was again a very fair supply of cattle on sale this week, but with a diminished demand, under the influence of the unfavorable advices from the East, the market was a dull one, and compared with last week prices are lower. New York reported full a dollar per cwt, this week with "extra" quoted in that market, at 16¼, it is not to be wondered that buyers are asking for concession here. Indeed, prices have been relatively lower in the West all the year than here, which was owing to the fact that Western drovers could get their stock at a much less cost by the shorter routes, than by way of Pittsburgh; thus, by keeping the supply down, prices are very naturally kept up; now that freights have been reduced Pittsburgh has some show again, and to this fact may be attributed the very largely increased arrivals at the Central Yards during the past two weeks. According to the latest advices, prices have declined fully two cents per pound in New York, within the past three or four weeks while in this market, the decline does not exceed three cents.

The quality of the cattle has been very good considering the increased number, and while there were a good many rough steers and oxen with considerably more value than meat, and old cows and stags, by any means suitable for slaughtering, there were also a very fair number of good cattle, on sale, though the class of stock as a general thing is held above the views of drovers, and in most instances has to be shipped East on owners account. And right here lies the reason why Pittsburgh ought to be one of the greatest cattle markets in the country. We are, as it were, half way between New York, Philadelphia and Chicago, and western drovers, have this advantage all the time, if they cannot sell here, they can ship on to New York, Philadelphia or Baltimore, as they may see proper. All we ask for is a fair show with other points; no discrimination against us in the way of freights, and if we are treated fairly in this respect, there is no reason why Pittsburgh should not be a great cattle depot between Chicago and New York—a point where the eastern buyer and western shipper can meet together each week and buy and sell as the case may be. We have three good routes of communication with the west; what we want now is another outlet to the east, and what we will soon have in the Pittsburgh & Connellsville Railroad, which it is expected will be completed through to Baltimore within the next two years.

The sales during the past week were nearly one half as large as during the week preceding, and as we have already intimated prices ruled considerably lower. Prime shipping cattle cannot fairly be quoted above 7¼ to 7½ while extra would command much above 8 cents. Light cattle, such as are bought at this season of the year for putting on pasture, may be quoted at 4½ to 5½, as to quality and condition.

Holmes Lafferty & Co., sold 23 head to J. Roth at 7; 44 head to another party at 5,35, and two or three small lots.

Hedges & Taylor sold 36 head, cows and heifers to R. Maynes & Co. at $51 per head; 1 head of fairish stock to Peter Kliemen, at $60; 35 to Maynes & Co.; at 5½; 54 to Evans at 7; 18 to Kleman at 6¼.

Knapp & Co. sold 36 head of prime fat cattle weighing 42,925 to L. Shamberg at 7c.

SHEEP.

There was a pretty sharp business done in this class of stock, the reported sales for the week ending Wednesday at noon, footing up over ten thousand head. As has been the case for some time past, prime fat sheep were in demand, and sold readily at all prices, while common and inferior were as dull as ever, and holders had to accept low figures in order to effect sales. Prices ranged all the way from $1 per head to 5¾c per pound, according to quality and condition. We quote the following sales:

H. Deitrich bought three droves at prices ranging from 3 to 4,30.

Pidcock & Erisman bought in al twenty-five different droves at 3 to 5¼.

Pearce & Co. bought three droves at from 3 to 5,15.

Pancoast bought three droves at from 3 to 3,25.

John Lloyd bought nine different lots at from 3,25 to 4,70.

Adam Deitrich bought five droves at from $1 per head to 4¼c per pound.

HOGS.

There was but little done in Hogs, and, notwithstanding the arrivals have not been unusually large, prices have declined, ranging from 7,25 to 9c, gross. The principal buyers this week were Wesley Hedges for New York, and Singer & Imhoff, Crouse, Emerick & Co., and Gilchreist & Co. for Philadelphia.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with scant eighteen inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks. It is claimed however that there are two or three more inches at Brunot, than these marks call for. The weather was again excessively hot yesterday, the thermometer being up to 96 in the shade at 4 p. m.

No arrivals to report. The America cleared for St. Louis, and the Delaware, was expected to leave for Cincinnati.

—We clip the following items from the Cincinnati Gazette, of Wednesday: The Lorena arrived in a badly damaged condition, and will not be able to proceed to St. Louis, but will reship on the Silver Cloud. No. 2. The Lorena entered protest here. The Silver Cloud will leave to-morrow. .....Capt. John Kyle has had the name of his new boat painted on her pilot house. She is called the Cheyenne.....The Robert Moore has quit the Portsmouth and Pittsburgh trade, and laid up at the former place to be repainted and fixed up, to take the place of the Fleetwood in the Cincinnati, Big Sandy and Pomeroy Packet Line. .....The officers of the Dora report the towboat Rochester high and dry at the head of French Island, on the Indiana side, 200 feet from the channel.

—We clip the following items from the Wheeling Intelligencer of Wednesday: Deputy U. S. Marshal, W. H. Irwin, returned yesterday from Point Pleasant, where he has again been in charge of the steamer "Sallie V." The Marshal must have a very strong attachment for the Sallie, as he visits her often. She always pays up.....The steamer Leslie Combs was tied up, yesterday, by Duputy Marshal W. H. Irwin, at Empire Coal Works, ten miles below the city. Like the Sallie, V., reported elsewhere, the Combs has been unfortunate enough to get in debt, and hence her present misfortune. It remains to be seen whether she will release herself as promptly as the saucy Miss, by discharging her liabilities.

—The Commercial of same date says: The Lorena having injured her hull by sparring through Buffington, causing her to leak, she entered protest here, and is reshipping her cargo on the Silver Cloud, which departs for St. Louis to-morrow..... The Chairmer from Pittsburgh for St. Louis, passed down Monday, and was plied out on the head of the bar at Cullum's Riffle yesterday morning. She doubtless succeeded in working off during the day.

—The Camelia enroute from Pittsburg to St Louis, was at Wheeling on Tuesday.

Gold closed yesterday in New York at 140¼.

THE Eight Hour Law of Pennsylvania became operative on the 1st inst. We print its text elsewhere.

THE Republicans of Michigan and Vermont held State Conventions on Wednesday, nominating their candidates for State officers and Presidential electors respectively, and cordially endorsing the action of the National Convention at Chicago.

THE Republicans of the Seventeenth Congressional District of Ohio have nominated Hon. J. A. AMBLER, of Columbiana county, as their candidate for Representative. In the Eighteenth, or Cleveland District, Hon. W. H. UPSON, of Summit county, is the Republican candidate.

UNITED STATES bonds to the amount of $28,129,000 have been issued to the several Pacific railroads, upon which, up to June 15th, the sum of $2,134,197 60, in interest has accrued. The amounts so far repaid by these companies, under the fifth section of the act of June 1864 is $765,488 02.

AN OFFICER of the army, now in New York, remarked on Wednesday, after visiting the hotels crowded with Southern Democratic delegates, that he never but once before saw so many officers of the rebel army—and that was when Fort Donaldson surrendered.

THE resolution of the House, for adjournment on the 15th, will not obtain the concurrence of the Senate. Nor is the popular branch now disposed to insist upon it. The new tariff bill which was reported on Wednesday is to receive consideration and, with other important measures still incomplete, will fully occupy the attention of Congress until the 1st of August.

THE river-bridge question is to be disposed of by Congress, by the appointment of a commission to decide each particular case upon its exact merits, without establishing any uniform system. The commission is to determine the width of span for each bridge applied for, with the plans for its construction, and having reference to any peculiarities of the channel at the designated site. This will dispose of the question very well, provided the commission be composed of military officers. If its functions be confided to civilians, we may count upon such a degree of jobbery and corruption as previous experience with commissions thus constituted warrants us in looking for.

THE ASSERTIONS, that certain distinguished Democrats are not candidates before their National Convention, must be accepted in a Pickwickian sense. For example, Mr. HENDRICKS declines to be a candidate—until after his friend PENDLETON shall be found unavailable. Gov. SEYMOUR positively declines a nomination—unless it be spontaneously tendered to him. ANDREW JOHNSON is no farther a candidate than that he would be gratified to receive a heavy complimentary vote. The truth is that each of these gentlemen is anxiously an aspirant, but neither of them has the straightforward frankness of Judge CHASE, who avows his ambition without such flimsy disguise.

THE pledge of Mr. CHASE to support the nominee of the Democratic Convention is stated to be in the possession of a friend at New York, and is in the following language:

"While I would be grateful to receive the nomination, I do not desire to have my name used without a positive assurance of success. I desire to put on record in advance of the meeting of the Convention, that I will support the nominee."

Quondam believers in the sincerity of the Judge's Republicanism, or who may now claim for him Republican support if he should be the Democratic candidate, can now form a more correct estimate of his political principles. Were not this pledge thus quoted with such absolute precision and by a correspondent not only notoriously well-informed, but who is believed to be one of Mr. CHASE's particular friends, in spite of his connection with a Pendleton journal, we could make some allowances for the incredulity of people who have heretofore admired the Chief Justice. For, what recent revelation of personal weakness and of political tergiversation could be more astounding than this absolute and unconditional surrender, by one so long trusted and conspicuously honored as a Republican, to an opposing party which has for seven years maligned his motives, disputed his statesmanship and denounced his official career. His judicial degradation is, if possible, eclipsed by his personal weakness and his political disgrace.

THERE is not the slightest danger that any portion of the Democratic party will fail to sustain the action of the Convention. Our success depends upon our ability to win over a few votes from the other side in five or six States; unless we can accomplish this, last year's election returns show that we shall be defeated.—N. Y. World, 1st.

Bolting is not a Democratic habit; they prefer to leave that sort of thing to their opponents, invariably, for themselves, supporting their own tickets, no matter how nominated. The double Democratic nominations in 1860 resulted not from a bolt, but from a schism in the Convention. The leaders of the Northern party had been for some time aware that the South was determined to set up for itself, and the fiasco of the Charleston Convention was but an abortive attempt to prevent it. After eight years, the entire party is re-united again, to secure, if possible, the success of the "lost cause" in a more peaceful but efficacious mode. Their Convention will be stormy, and its results will astonish the politicians. But let no Republican imagine that the Democratic party will be staggered by anything the Convention may do. Whether the candidate be PENDLETON or CHASE, HANCOCK or some one yet unknown, whether they resolve for greenbacks or gold, for universal suffrage or a white man's government, the party will very generally swallow the proceedings with a gulp, and go in for that success which is this year to be the objective point for Democratic effort. In fact, the particular candidate is of little consequence to that party. Whoever he may be, he will be placed upon a platform which will bear the most opposite interpretations, and the entire party will be reconciled to its support. That the Democratic party shall gain no accessions to its numbers is all that Republicans must see to; keep them where they are, and even the World acknowledges that they must be defeated.

THE CANVASS IN PENNSYLVANIA.

It is time that our Republican friends should understand that, if they expect to make their majority of the votes of this State effective at the polls in October and November, it will be only accomplished by perfecting their organization and inaugurating an active and thorough canvass. We can assure them that, at no time within our recoilection of Pennsylvania politics, have the opposition laid their plans of operation broader or deeper, or with a more determined resolution to achieve success in some way and at any cost. The habitual, traditional tactics of that party have been fortified, at each successive election, by grosser outrages against the laws, and by more and more flagrant invasions of the purity of the suffrage. They enter upon the canvass this year with a determination to carry it, and to this end they not only mean to poll every vote lawfully within their reach, but we have fair notice that they will repeat the villainous frauds of the last autumn, undiminished, and on a still more extended scale. They will colonize in one district, repeat in another, and everywhere that election officers can be found to connive, they will swamp the boxes with fraudulent and forged certificates of naturalization. The Clearfield villanies of 1867, to this day unpunished, will be repeated, with confidence in a continued impunity, in other localities of the Commonwealth, and wherever unlawful votes can be forced into the boxes, men will be found and the effort will be made. In short, the Democracy intend to carry Pennsylvania, not by a fair poll, for they know that to have been for eight years synonymous with Democratic defeats, but by the unsparing use of every outrageous fraud that experience, impunity and nerve can suggest.

We do not propose to our friends to meet that party with its own weapons. Frauds and forgeries, baptized as these have been by the blood of poor CASEY, who was murdered to punish his indiscreet revelations, and encouraged, protected and more than half legalized as they are by the partizan Court which the frauds of last year clothed with judicial power—these are not the means by which the Republicans of this State incline to maintain the supremacy of their political sentiments. If we have not the Supreme Court at our backs, and at our beck, we have a clear majority of the honest, lawful votes of the Commonwealth. All we need to do is to see to it that our majority be not cheated and bamboozled out of its rights by judicial humbugs, or robbed with the strong hand by the scoundrels who instigated and profited by CASEY's murder. This may seem to be plain language, but no fair-minded citizen who has read the published records of last fall's election-villainy perpetrated by Democratic politicians in three or four northern counties, will say that it is unwarranted.

We want an honest election in this State, and unless we mistake the Republican feeling in every quarter, our friends intend to have it. We attempted to prescribe legislative precautions against illegal and fraudulent voting and to that end enacted recently a fair and impartial scheme of registration, which took away the suffrage from no citizen who is entitled to it, which conferred the privilege upon no one who does not already enjoy it under pre-existing laws, and which simply provided that the names of all the lawful voters of the Commonwealth should be recorded, in advance, upon lists open to the inspection and criticism of all citizens, of whatever party. By this registration we justly hoped to place each citizen's right beyond dispute, and to preclude any possibility of fraud in the poll, in the interests of any party whatever. This measure contemplated an honest election, to be decided by lawful votes and by none others. For that precise reason, it was unacceptable to the Democracy, which finds no profit in an honest vote in Pennsylvania. Concocting a flimsy but specious case, fictitious in all particulars except in the undisguised hostility of its propounders, they appealed without delay or hesitation to the Supreme Court, soliciting its decision against the constitutionality (!) of the law. They knew precisely what to depend upon. They knew that Court to be swayed by a majority of Judges who, first and last, are Democratic partizans, and whose oaths of office were evidently sworn with mental, Democratic reservations. They knew that one of those Judges—three of the five being Democratic—owed his seat on that bench to precisely those fraudulent votes which this law would render impossible hereafter. They all knew—Democratic party and Democratic Judges—that with the new law validly in force, their party and political success in this State might bid to each other a long farewell. What more did they need to know

The result is before us—the Supreme Court yesterday held the Registry Law to be unconstitutional. They further held the act disfranchising deserters to be similarly invalid. We have no invectives to waste upon these decisions. Legally unsound and politically partizan as we believe them, we expected nothing less from that tribunal. And we must accept the situation. We are remitted to the old system, with all its imperfections, and with all the facilities for fraud which Democratic experience has illustrated. But we are also remitted, with abundant notice from our opponents, to greater vigilance in the protection of the suffrage. They give us notice, in unmistakable terms, that fraud is their game, and we may as well comprehend that they will win by these frauds, if we do not watch them and apply other adequate means of prevention. We are fairly forewarned. Shall we not be forearmed?

DEMOCRATIC sympathy with SURRATT, one of the assassins of President LINCOLN, is plainly enough manifested in the following paragraph from the Troy Daily Press, an organ of unquestioned Democratic orthodoxy:

"Now what is the use of badgering this fellow any longer. There seems indeed to be little doubt that he was engaged in the plot to abduct President Lincoln, which was not more disgraceful than the attempt to remove President Johnson, but suppose he was engaged in the conspiracy to murder President Lincoln, is that act (horrible as it is) any worse than the conspiracy to take the lives of better men than President Lincoln."

Grant and Colfax Going West.

With Gen. Dent, his brother-in-law, Mrs. Grant and the children only, General Grant will leave Washington in a few days for Newport Barracks, Kentucky. Close by, at Covington, he will see Jesse Grant his father; for this trip is to be duty and family together in all its parts. From Covington the General will go either by boat or rail to Jefferson Barracks, near St. Louis; and while he attends to military affairs at that point he will also examine into a farm that he owns near by—the same, probably, from which he carted wood to St. Louis to sell to the first customer. Then Gen. Grant will go out on the line of the Pacific Railway from Omaha as far as the telegraph wires go, so as to be in constant communication with Gen. Rawlins, who will administer the army orders according to directions received daily from Gen. Grant. Returning over the direct Pacific Road, Gen. Grant will take the other Pacific railway southward, and proceed over it as far as the wires go.

Meantime, Mr. Colfax, will pack up his traps, as soon as Congress adjourns, and he has attended to his closing duties, and joined by his sister, mother, father-in-law, will proceed west to Cheyenne, where Mr. Colfax has a married sister residing. Here he will meet the family of Gen. Grant and the gentlemen of the company will then go up into the Rocky Mountains, visiting several places described by Fremont, and as yet unvisited by Mr. Colfax. It is uncertain as to whether Gen. Grant will accompany this party, or return straightway to the East. Neither Gen. Grant nor Mr. Colfax will take any part in the coming campaign, beyond general conference with each other. It may gratify a good many interested people to know that between the two Republican candidates, office and its apportionment is never discussed. It is Colfax's aim only to keep the Republican party strait on the way to victory and public confidence, by keeping it right, temperate and progressive. It is Grant's aim only to get the country steady, make it satisfied, and give it peace. I doubt that any two candidates for mutual honors of so high a rank have ever schemed so little as these men. Both of them are confident in the country's verdict. Grant works hard at the army; Colfax is in his place steadily, except when he gives the three new candidates for the Speaker-ship a chance to take a season at presiding.—Wash. Cor. Cin. Com.

Another Slander Exposed.

The Democratic journals have been extensively circulating the following:

GRANT IN 1861.—I am a Democrat; every man in my regiment is a Democrat, and when I shall be convinced that this war has for its object any other than what I have mentioned, or the Government designs using its soldiers to execute the purposes of the Abolitionists, I pledge you my honor as a soldier that I will carry my sword on the other side, and cast my lot with that people. —Col. U. S. Grant, in 1861.

A few days since, Mr. Henderson, of the Allegan (Mich.) Journal, addressed a note of inquiry to Hon. E. B. Washburne, and received from him the following response:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10, 1868.—Dear Sir: It is idle for the loyal men of the country to attempt to deny the rebel and copperhead lies now being put in circulation against General Grant. No sooner would one lie be exploded than another would be put in circulation. No more silly and ridiculous fabrication has been put forth than the pretended speech of Gen. Grant to his regiment in 1861, which I have seen paraded in some of the most disreputable copperhead newspapers. The whole thing is false, there not being the "shadow of a shade" of foundation for it.

Yours, truly, E. B. WASHBURNE.

CONVENTION OF G. A. R.—The semi-annual State Convention of the Grand Army of the Republic, will be held at Pottsville, on the 8th inst. On the 9th a grand parade and review of the delegates will take place, and a pic nic is to be held in the fair grounds. Delegates are expected to be present from all the posts in the State, and an immense crowd is anticipated. It is expected that the railroads will issue excursion tickets to those attending the Convention.

Politics in Washington.

The Cincinnati Chronicle says: A letter from a friend in Washington, now before us, gives a graphic account of political movements among the aristocracy of that sink of iniquity and boot-hole of corruption. It says:

Mrs. Senator Sprague, with her tall, slender person, and cool, self-possessed ways, the acknowledged leader of fashion here, is the handsome head and front of the Chase movement, and is gracefully unbending to an intercourse, confidential and complimentary, with the Democratic leaders. They are wonderfully flattered and fascinated by the condescension.

The Hon. Montezuma Dawkins, from the interior of Indiana or Kentucky, for example, is invited to call. In the presence of one of the most exquisite specimens of womanly refinement, surrounded by all the delicate upholstery that taste and wealth can accumulate, the Hon. Dawkins weakens. But to have the interested attention of such a lady; to have her ask after Mrs. D. and the little D.'s; to hear her compliment that eloquent speech on impeachment!!! Dawkins' head swims; he is fascinated; he is lost, and in this condition is passed over to the Chief Justice, who invites him to a dejeuner a la fourchette, which Dawkins learns is breakfast.

At these breakfasts our Chief Justice is famous. A dinner is a stiff, formal affair, but breakfast is a pleasant, easy thing, liable to confidences. How gracefully the Supreme Court unbends, in little anecdotes, witticisms and epigrams. After breakfast Dawkins is treated to a superb cigar in the library, and leaves the Chief Justice to discourse on the political condition of the country.

After this Dawkins is heard to express the opinion, in a very earnest way, that it is time for the great Democracy to turn from the dead past and recognize the living issues; that success is a principle necessary to save the Democracy from demoralization; that the country calls for the best statesmanship, &c., &c.

I know that this Chase movement is all stuff, yet I cannot help sympathizing with it on Mrs. Sprague's account. She is a brave, clear-headed, accomplished woman, who has won her way, through sense, courage and tact, and up from all sorts of trouble that would have discouraged any other woman. She has all her illustrious father's pluck and indomitable will, added to her womanly instincts and delicate tact. I sat looking at her, the other day, and weakened like poor Dawkins, not at what she said of me, but at what I knew of her. Her life has been a readable romance, in its way. She is not beautiful—she is not even handsome, if critically examined—but there is something about the large, luminous blue eyes, long eye-lashes, slender, graceful form, and exquisite dress, and address, that have the effect of extreme beauty. To see her presiding at the Executive mansion, and restoring character to that house of misfortune, would be worth a struggle and some sacrifice.

Mrs. S. is more outspoken than her father, who is naturally reticent and cautious. During the impeachment trial, the Chief Justice never said a word that indicated his leaning to either side. But the anxious inquirers heard enough from Mrs. S. to satisfy them that the Chief Justice had gone over to Johnson.

In the same way they Judged of Senator Sprague, and made a mistake. The ambition of the Senator's life is to become considered independent of his wife and father-in-law. Besides, a vote for Johnson would have cost the Senator a million dollars at his re-election to the Senate.

The Rebel Democracy.

The rebels of the whole South will be heavily represented in the Democratic National Convention on the 4th of July. South Carolina will, as usual, take the lead. We find the correct list of her delegation in the Charleston Mercury. A few of the names—a little of the history of this band of worthies, will be a refreshing exhibition to our readers:

"Wade Hampton (ex-rebel General), Jas. Chesnut (a seceding United States Senator and a member of the rebel Congress), Judge Aldrich (last year removed by Gen. Canby from his judgeship for open hostility to the Government), ex-Governor John L. Manning (rebel Commissioner from South Carolina in 1861, and member of the State Convention that declared South Carolina out of the Union), M. L. Bonham, (one of the seceding members of the XXXVth Congress, representative in the rebel Congress, rebel Governor of South Carolina, and one of the rebel Commissioners to Buchanan who demanded that the General Government should not attempt to hold Fort Sumpter), and Robert Barnwell Rhett, the Calhoun of the rebellion—the first man who in the United States Congress, of which he was both a Representative and Senator, openly advocated the dissolution of the Union."

Hendricks and Colfax.

Once in Lake county, Indiana, a gentleman informs me, Hendricks was melting butter over an audience, when, seeing Colfax in the back part of the Court House, he addressed him, saying: "I see before me your distinguished fellow-citizen, Speaker Colfax. If I am wrong in these positions, let him correct me.

Hendricks knew that Colfax made it common to attend the meetings of his opponents, but never to reply. At this time Hendricks was pushing an argument along upon the rollers of fabricated statistics. Seeing, as he supposed, that Colfax said nothing, Hendricks continued to move on his fictitious edifice, and again appealed to Colfax.

Then said Colfax, semper paratus:

"If my friend thinks that by my silence I assent to his figures he is altogether wrong. And I have the official statistics in print in my pocket."

Which he proceeded to read, whereby it was demonstrated that the speech of Hendricks, like the system of Pantheism of Spinosa, was reared upon altogether manufactured definitions.

Grant Versus McClellan.

The World and other Democratic sheets which want McClellan nominated at New York, assail General Grant from day to day as a heartless butcher who sacrificed nearly twice as many troops as Lee had in his entire army. McClellan lost 52,096 men, and at the end of a year and a half found himself at Rectortown, or fifty miles further from his objective point than when he assumed command. Grant lost 106,501 men, and at the end of a year captured the rebel capital, received the sword of the rebel commander, issued paroles through his subordinates to all the rebel soldiers and restored peace to the country. Before Grant took command, the Army of the Potomac lost in killed, wounded and missing 145,118 men. The subsequent losses were 106,501. Gen. Grant's operations embrace the great fighting which caused the rebellion to succumb. For his losses he had something to show, which cannot be said of the other commanders.

Bold Burglary at Oil City.

The Titusville Herald says: One of the most audacious burglaries that has been perpetrated in the oil region for some time, occurred at Oil City about noon yesterday, at one of the most frequented places in the city. The ticket office of the Oil Creek and Allegheny River Railway, located in the passenger depot, was the scene of the burglary, having been entered by means of a window, while Mr. Randolph, the cashier was absent, and a package containing $1,500 abstracted from the safe and carried off. It appears that Mr. Randolph had made up his package of money for the purpose of remitting it to the treasurer of the road. He placed it in one of the drawers, shut the safe door, and then went out to get some bank checks cashed and to take dinner. He was away from the office but a short time, and on returning he found that a window had been tampered with, and a glance at the safe showed that the money drawer had been forced open and that the $1,500 had disappeared. Up to six o'clock last evening the whereabouts of the money, or who secured it, had not been learned. We understand that a reward of $500 has been offered for the apprehension of the burglars and the recovery of the money.

☞ FOR SALE BY DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS IN MEDICINE EVERYWHERE.

Price 50 Cents Per Box.

A Warning to Counterfeiters, and a Caution to Purchasers.

No expense will be spared, no legal means of punishing fraud will be neglected, in the effort to prevent the counterfeiting of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. But counterfeiters, when its cunning and activity are stimulated by the hope of gain, is very ingenious and industrious. The men whose despicable business it is to simulate valuable proprietary medicines, and who substitute therefor dangerous or worthless preparations, are proverbially difficult to catch. Most of them have many aliases, and they flit from State to State with surprising agility, in the hope of evading the clutches of the law. The proprietors of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are determined, if possible, to hunt them down. Traveling agents are employed for this purpose, and whenever an offender is detected he is prosecuted with the utmost rigor of the law. No amount of vigilance, however, can prevent the occasional introduction of imitations and counterfeits. The public are therefore CAUTIONED not to purchase any article purporting to be HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS which is not authenticated by the handsome government stamp specially engraved for the proprietor, and also by their superb new label with a beautiful vignette, representing the conflict between St. George and the Dragon, at the top, and a miniature note of hand, signed Hostetter & Smith, at the top.

N. B.—The genuine BITTERS are sold in BOTTLES ONLY. All persons who pretend to sell the article by the gallon or barrel are imposters, and the stuff they offer is a worthless and probably poisonous counterfeit.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone," on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten it on my lungs. I knew that the peculiar mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to the discharge, which I believed was a salutary provision of nature to get rid of some morbid condition of the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, J—— C——.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSSDAY, July 2, 1868.

The gold market was very dull to-day, and slightly off in the afternoon; the heavy payments begin to exercise a depressing influence on the gold market, and never before was such a desire manifested to dispose of the interest on bonds than at present. Next week is likely to witness lower rates on gold; money will then command from 4 to 6 per cent. on call, and large amounts of bonds have to be carried or the price will decline, and capitalists may buy in at low rates. This pressure on the money market, as well as the large amounts of money needed for moving the crops, will make gold speculation too expensive, and large amounts are expected to come on the market to realize

A heavy pressure on the bond market was noticeable to-day, and prices further declined early in the morning; in the afternoon the market was more steady, but with no orders to buy. Any powerful partp that would attack the bond market could carry down quotations 2 or 3 per cent.: the confidence of holders is not shaken yet by the decline of ¼ per cent., but a further decline of a point or two would frighten holders, and cause a general selling out. The market is steady today, but before any reaction can take place, a further decline would be necessary and desirable.

Stocks are very dull and generally lower throughout the entire list, except North Western common and preferred, which advanced in the face of all the decline of the older stocks.

Border State bonds have declined some 8 to 10 per cent. within three days on account of an injunction served to restrain the State from paying the interest due yesterday.

Express stocks are all lower and dull. Mining shares are slightly off and inactive. Money very scarce, and business quiet.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 140⅝; 1881 bonds, 112¾; 1862 5-20s, 112½; 1864 do, 110; 1865 do, 110½; new, 1865 and 1867, 108⅜; Ten Forties, 107⅜; Seven Thirties, 108⅝.

New York Central, 134¼; Erie, 69¾; Michigan Southern, 91⅛; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 87½; Northwestern, common, 74¼; Preferred, 79; Chicago & Rock Island, 105¼; Pittsburgh & Fort Wayne, 109½; Ohio & Mississippi Certificates, 29⅝; Merchants Union Express, 24¾; Western Union Telegraph, 34½; Corydon, 30; Quicksilver, 22½; Quartz Hill, 1,15.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.:

Gold, 140⅜; U. S. 6's, 1881's, 113¼; 5-20's, 1862, 113; 5-20's, 1864, 110½; 5-20's, 1865, 110½; 10-40's, 107; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 111⅛; 5-20's, January and July, '67 108⅜; June 7-30's, 108⅜; July 7-30's, 108¾; May Comp., 1865, 119.-30.

—The Memphis Avalanche, of June 28th, announces another bank failure in that city. The Merchants' National Bank has been for some time in a precarious condition, and most of the smaller depositors withdrew their funds, but the directors had made such arrangements as they thought would enable the bank to go on, when General Wilson, a Government agent, undeceived them. The Avalanche says:

The result was another draw on the bank yesterday morning, this time from the directors. By ten or eleven o'clock, so persistent was the demand, it was found necessary to suspend payment. In a little longer, by request of the directors, Gen. Wilson was in possession of the keys, books, &c., belonging to the institution, and had made an order of liquidation.

General Wilson found no cash on taking possession, and nothing to the credit of the concern with other banks or correspondents. Paper, amounting to about $300,000, had been sent to New York banks at different times to raise money on, all credited and discounted to the Merchant's National Bank, and now maturing. This, of course, will return protested, and be a liability of the collapsed institution, which, added to the amount due depositors—say $150,000 to $200,000, as variously estimated—will make the gross liabilities of the bank about $500,000. As for assets, in addition to the paper in New York, the bank has here about $400,000 in paper, at least half of which under protest or past due. Thus the assets are apparently $700,000 in paper, good, bad and indifferent, of which, at a fair estimate, about 25 per cent. is all that can be collected in these disjointed times. From this statement the reader may judge of the chances of depositors and stockholders. The depositors caught by the failure were mostly heavy ones, and a few in number, the small ones, who generally make most noise, having been paid, with a few, if any exceptions. The heaviest sufferer by the collapse will be the Metropolitan Bank of New York. In fact, the weight of the failure is very largely in New York, and will be felt here only as affects our credit and the depositors to whom we have made reference.

St. Louis Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, July 2.—Cattle easy for buyers at 3a6½c gross. Sheep and Lambs unchanged.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, July 2, 1868.

The excessively hot weather of the past two or three days has almost squelched what life there was in our market, and there is but little prospect at present of any immediate improvement. The demand even for home consumption, is very much restricted, and there is an almost entire absence of anything like a speculating feeling.

BUTTER—Is dull, and under the influence of increased arrivals, prices are drooping. Prime to choice fresh packed is quoted at 23 to 25.

EGGS—In fair supply and dull but unchanged at 20 to 21c.

HAY—Is selling at scales at from $15 to $22 per ton, for common to strictly prime Timothy.

POTATOES—There was a good demand for New crop to-day at $6 to $6,50 per bbl. Old crop almost exhausted; quoted nominally at $1,15 to $1,20 per bushel.

DRIED FRUIT—Is dull but unchanged at 5½ to 6½c for Apples, and 10½ to 12c for Peaches.

CHEESE—Unchanged at 13 to 14 for Western Reserve and Hamburg; 15 to 16 for Factory; 18 for Limburg, and 19 to 20 for Sweitzer.

GRAIN—Wheat is in light demand, as the mills are buying very sparingly, under the impression that there will soon be a material decline. Two cars of prime Ohio Red changed hands the other day at $1,35, and 1 car new Tennessee, to arrive, at same figure. As there has been a considerable decline in Chicago and in the west since then, these figures could hardly be realized now. Oats quiet but steady, with 75 to 76c offered, and 78c asked. Corn is quiet at $1 to $1,05; sale of 1 car mixed, in elevator, at $1. Rye is firm at $1,60 for small lots, and a round lot would command $1,65 to $1,70. No Barley in market.

LARD OIL—Is quiet and a shade easier; we now quote at $1,20 for No. 2, and $1,38 to $1,40 for No. 1.

PROVISIONS—Bacon, with the exception of Sugar Cured Hams, for which there is an improved demand, is dull and a little weak at 13¼ to 13½c for Shoulders; 16c to 18 for Ribbed and Clear Sides, and 19½c for Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams. Lard, 17¼ to 17½c, for prime kettle rendered. Dried Beef, 21 to 22c. Mess Pork, $26,75.

SALT.—Is dull and nominally unchanged; $1,75 to 1,80 to the trade, and $2,00 for small lots.

SEEDS—The last sales of Flaxseed reported were at $2,50 to $2,55.

LIME—Sales at $2 per bbl.

PIG LEAD—Quoted at 10 to 10¼c.

FLOUR—While the market is dull, the demand being very light, there is, as yet, no change in prices. We continue to quote at $9,50 to $10 for medium Spring Wheat, and $10,25 to $10,50 for good to choice do. Winter Wheat is still quoted at $11 to $11,50, and fancy brands at $13 to $14. Rye Flour is unchanged at $9 per bbl.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, July 2, 1868.

CRUDE—The Crude market was again very strong to-day, and with a sharp demand, continued favorable advices from the east and a light supply, prices have still further advanced. The sales were larger than for some days, reaching over 15,000 bbls, as follows: 2,000 bbls, seller's option, till December 1st—resale of contract, difference in cash—at 13½c; 5,000 bbls, all year, buyer's option—resale of contract, difference in cash—at 15c; two lots of 1,000 each for October, seller's option, at 14½c; two lots of 1,000 each for November, seller's option, at 14¾c; 1,200 July, seller's option, at 13¾c; 500 till 20th July, seller's option, at 14½c; 800, spot, at 14½c; and 1,000 for August at 14¾c. From the above it will be seen that an advance of from ¼ to ½c has been established. Oil City telegrams report the market firm at $5,25.

REFINED—Notwithstanding the transactions in bonded oil were insignificant, compared with the sales of Crude, the market, nevertheless, was considerably excited, and fully as strong, and prices have still further advanced. The sales were: 500 bbls for first half of July at 33c; 500 each from August to December at 34c, and 500 each from July to December, on private terms. Antwerp has made an another upward movement, being quoted today at 48½ francs, and this, of course, to some extent, at least, helped to strengthen the market. The main reason why the sales of bonded oil were not larger to-day, lies in the fact that the offerings to sell were light.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Dry Goods market steady and firm for all staple fabrics of Cotton Goods, with only a moderate inquiry for white; the fancy styles are being closed out at low figures, which can hardly be regarded as a criterion. FASHIONS FOR JULY.

[From the Boston Post.]

I remember, a long while ago, I shall not tell how long, when I was young, calling with my mother upon a lady whose person and surroundings made a very curious impression upon me. It was a darkened room, shaded by buff blinds, and with furniture encased in buff linen covers, into which we were snown, and when the lady came in she seemed to have been made to match exactly her surroundings, she wore a buff morning dress, and buff slippers, her hair was straw color, her complexion a pale yellow, and so peculiar and jaundiced a tone did the apartment and person have for me, that it made me nervous, and left an impression never to be effaced. The prevailing tint of this season and the fashion of uniformity of color carried through the entire costume reminds me constantly of that youthful experience. The favorite material for summer traveling suits is pongee, and when this is worn with a straw bonnet, a pongee parasol, buff boots and gloves of yellow undressed kid, the effect is very odd and striking. Undressed linen suits are also in great demand for summer wear, and when this material is not worn as a suit it is nearly always employed as a wrap, with or without sleeves, to protect a costume made of a more expensive fabric. Buff piquè is in vogue, not only for children, but also for morning robes, and straw fringe and straw trimming are largely employed, both upon white and thin black costumes.

WHITE DRESSES.

White used to be the emblem of innocence and simplicity. How many heroines have looked bewitching in "simple" white dress starched by some anxious mother for that special occasion. We know better than that now. We don't believe that a heroine could possibly have looked well in a starched dress. We don't wear white dresses that have been washed and starched and ironed into a vulgar whiteness and stiffness, or if a fit of unusual economy does overtake us we employ a laundress whose highest art is that of disguising her art and making her voluminous white waves and tucks and puffs and frills look as though they had never seen the wash tub at all. White dresses instead of forming the simplest of toillettes, are now distinguished by the highest fashion, and the most elegant of these expensive dresses are made so exclusively by the amount of work put upon them, and the exquisite fineness of the material rather than the cost of the lace and trimmings. Very handsome white dresses are made of alternate tucking and puffing, fifteen narrow tucks forming a stripe three inches wide and these alternating with "whipped" puffings throughout the entire skirt with its immense train. Another style is trimmed with ruffles of the material plainly hemmed and this uniformly made with a Marie Antoinette fichu, the ends tying up the upper or only skirt in a huge puf behind. White short dresses are a great deal worn, but always in linen piquè, or a material that will wash. They are best when simply made with skirt and short sac, and only trimmed with black soutache or white washing braid. They are fresh and cool looking for warm weather, but not desirable for ceremonious visits or occasions. Besides the all white toilettes, there are the trained Victorias and dresses of lace and muslin worn over silk slips, which are very beautiful and becoming, and very fashionable for evening wear. Most of them are cut a la princesse, skirt and low boddice in one, but some are made to wear over high silk body, filling the neck instead of the usual chemisette. A puffing all round with an edging of insertion, a Valenciennes lace and bows of pink or blue ribbon, is the usual finish, but some are made much more elaborately, consisting indeed of a mere mass of puffing, insertion and lace. Simply made, a couple of muslin Victorias constitute an excellent method of changing and freshening up old silk or satin dresses that have become a little frayed or discolored during the winter campaign, and render them quite sufficiently elegant for the exigencies of a short season at a watering place.

CROQUET COSTUME.

The prettiest croquet costume, in the opinion of all gentlemen, consists of a white short suit of linen or pique, light leather-colored kid boots, and a jardiniere hat trimmed with a garland of field flowers. The "jardiniere" hat is made of fancy straw, with a drooping brim bent in on four sides. A trimming of black lace and field flowers suit it admirably Another pretty croquet costume is an unbleached linen skirt, jacket with revers, white piquè vest, and round hat of piquè. A little necktie of scarlet netted silk gives odor and tone to a toilette, clear, cool, but somewhat flat.

BATHING DRESSES.

Bathing dresses are indispensible and economical for persons who stay even for a week at a seaside resort; without them ladies are obliged to pay fifty cents each time they bathe for the use of some salt-water-soaked, ill-made and mis-mated garment, the trowsers of which are too short, while the blouse is of an immense size, and of course destitute of the ascetic rope with which it should be tied round the waist. No better design for a bathing dress has ever been invented than that of trowsers and blouse, made full and plaited into a neatly fitting yoke and belt, the trowsers loose and plaited into a wide, tight fitting band at the waist. Such a dress is easily made, inexpensive, and will last for years, as the fashion in bathing dresses is not liable to change. Every year, of course, a new caprice is announced; sometimes it is linen, and at other times "scarlet" bathing dresses are the rage, or the neutral shades of buff are wonderfully braided in high colors and elaborate patterns. Neither of these styles are suitable for bathing purposes; linen is cold and clings to the form, high colored stuffs are too striking for good taste, and elaborate trimmings are entirely lost. An old garden hat tied down at the sides is the best covering for the head, better and more becoming than a cap of oiled silk, though this is not unfrequently worn underneath the other by ladies who wish to preserve their hair from contact with salt water. A serge or all-wool flannel is the best material for a bathing dress.

THE PANIERS.

A merican ladies cannot go to the Paniers in their absolute enormity, but they make a concession to them by bunching the skirts of both short and long dresses behind, and goring them very straight in front. A simple way of producing the pouf in a short dress is to gather the long hind breadth of the upper skirt to the short gored side breadths, ornament the seams with straps and rosettes, and raise the fulness into a pouf in the centre by a narrow strap fastened to the band on the inside and then to a button sewed on the skirt, or the sash may be arranged to tie under the fulness and form a pouf. Care should be taken not to have the front breadths draw too straight, as the effect, though quaint, is ungraceful to the last degree.

THE FICHU MANIA.

A great many lace shawls are worn, a good many scarf mantilets and thin burnous of striped and plain materials in white, black and colors. All of them are nothing, however, beside the rage for the Marie Antoinette fichu which accompanies all the new thin dresses, and it is frequently worn independently in silk and lace. The fichu proper, crossed in front and tied behind is the prettiest, made in suits and trimmed with ruffles. In silk the cape with square tabs in front passing under a wide belt and fastened at the back with bow and wide sash ends, is exceedingly stylish and frequently made more so by a small lace cord. The white muslin fichus with ruffles are very pretty over muslin dresses, so are fichus of black lace. In white, sprigged or dotted muslin they may be made en suite, with a dress of the same material, both trimmed with Valenciennes or Cluny lace.

EDUCATIONAL.

Commencement of the Mt. St. Mary's and St. Joseph's Colleges.

EMMITSBURG, MD, June 29, 1868.

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE:—It was my pleasant fortune to be in attendance on Thursday last at the Commencement exercises of the St. Joseph's Academy for young ladies and the Mount Saint Mary's College, both educational institutions which are widely known from Maine to Georgia. The former Academy for young ladies is a noble and imposing structure, imparadised in a romantic and health giving part of Frederick county. It connects the early history of our country with the present, dating its foundation away back to the beginning of the present century. It will be remembered by the patriotic and loyal that this institution of learning, nestled in the heart of "My Maryland," sent forth into the Union ranks hundreds of good sisters of charity to comfort, console and nurse the brave boys in blue who were wounded at Antietam and Gettsburg.

The Commencement exercises of the Academy were very interesting, and the scholars evinced intellectual capacity and training. The occasion was honored with the presence of Archbishop M'Closkey, of New York, Archbishop Spaulding, of Baltimore, and Archbishop Purcell, of Cincinnati. A beautiful gold medal was awarded Miss Thvson, of Washington D.C., for excellence in the science of Domestic Economy. This all important branch of female education which, stripped of its scientific designation, simply means the art of attending properly to household duties, such as washing, baking, scrubbing, darning, mending, sewing and cooking, is made a specialty by this Academy, and while the girls are afforded ornamental education and sound mental training for the drawing room and parlor, still the kitchen, pantry and wash room are not neglected.

There was a large attendance at the commencement from all parts of the country, principally the friends and patrons of the institution, and much interest was manifested in the exercises. The scholars executed brilliant performances on the piano in the intervals between the distributions of Academic Honors. At the close a spirited distribution song, written and set to music by Miss E. Smaw, of Alabama, was sung in a sweet manner by that lady and Miss Huneker. At the close of the exercises the visitors strolled in the art studies, where was a large collection of oil paintings, colorings, pen drawings, pencil sketches, wax works, artificial flowers, embroideries and general handiwork, all the work of the pupils. The beautiful grounds, laid out in an exquisitely neat manner, and abounding with floral beauties, enticing promenades, and rare statuary were objects of much attraction to the visitors, none of whom regretted their presence on the occasion.

The commencement at Mount St. Mary's College was equally entertaining, and the same degree of interest was manifested. The boys evinced thorough education, and the exercises of the graduating class elicited the warmest admiration. They were addressed by Archbishops McCloskey, Purcell and Spaulding. Among the graduates was Mr. James Fenlon, of Latrobe, whose scholastic attainments were highly extolled by the worthy President of the College, Dr. McCaffrey. At the conclusion of the exercises the graduates gave a parting supper to the professors of the College and senior classes. Mount St. Mary's College has been in active and successful operation during the past fifty years, and has done much in contributing to the educational advancement of our country.

Exhibition of the Downing Literary Society of Hickory, Pa.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—On Wednesday evening, the 27th inst., another grand entertainment was given by the members of the Downing Literary Society of Hickory Academy, (in the village church,) adding another bright constellation to the firmament of literature, causing it to shine with renewed brilliancy and sparkle with beauty and delight. Although but in the morning of its existence, yet no academicians have made more rapid advancement and bid fairer to occupy the highest seats in the halls of art, science and literature than the members of the above institution. All honor is due to the professorship of Miss Bella Miller, who has guided the bark as it were o'er the broad sea of learning, 'mid storms and difficulties, and landed it in the harbor of safety, crowning herself with professional honors and adding fresh laurels to her reputation as a teacher, which would cause the most learned critic to exclaim: she may have her equals but no superiors.

A stage was erected extending the whole length of the church and most tastefully decorated with evergreens and handsomely festooned with Flora's choicest gifts, and brilliantly illuminated by chandeliers ingeniously devised by the artisan's hand, which presented to the eye of the beholder a most delightful scene.

The church was crowded to its utmost capacity with the youth, beauty, fashion and respectability, each town and district for miles around having its representatives.

The performances throughout were productions of the highest order, and for beauty, style and elegance rarely excelled, (reflecting great credit on both teacher and pupils) and proving highly edifying to all who witnessed them, some of which deserve special notice. The solo and chorus ("Little Barefoot") was truly a beautiful scene, the manner in which it was sung and acted—Miss Cassie Miller playing the part of "Little Barefoot," and as she came forth in child-like simplicity, proved the admiration of all.

The triple wedding was a truly a novel scene, commingled with a certain amount of solemnity. As the curtain rose there stood the three fair couples, and as the audience sat in breathless suspense as the village pastor arose, as it were, to join these youthful hearts, the curtain dropped and the scene closed leaving the audience to exclaim fronti nulla fides.

640 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

Are now finished and in operation. Sixty miles of track have been laid this spring, and the work along the whole line between the Atlantic and Pacific States is being pushed forward more rapidly than ever before. More than twenty thousand men are employed, and it is not impossible that the entire track, from Omaha to Sacramento, will be finished in 1869 instead of 1870. The means provided are ample, and all that energy, men and money can do to secure the completion of this

GREAT NATIONAL WORK,

At the earliest possible day, will be done.

The UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY receive:

I.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right of way, and all necessary timber and other materials found along the line of its operations.

II.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, taken in alternate sections on each side of its road. This is on absolute donation, and will be a source of large revenue in the future.

III.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of United States Thirty-year Bonds, amounting to from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, according to the difficulties to be surmounted on the various sections to be built. The Government takes a second mortgage as security, and it is expected that not only the interest, but the principal amount may be paid in services rendered by the Company in transporting troops, mails, &c. The interest is now much more than paid in this way, besides securing a great saving in time and money to the Government.

IV.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to aid in building the road, to the same amount as the U. S. Bonds, issued for the same purpose, and no more. The Government permits the Trustees for the First Mortgage Bondholders to deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the road is completed, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class Railroad, laid with a heavy T rail, and completely supplied with depots, stations, turnouts, carshops, locomotives, cars, &c.

V.—A CAPITAL STOCK SUBSCRIPTION from the stockholders, of which OVER EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS have been paid in upon the work already done, and which will be increased as the wants of the Company require.

VI.—NET CASH EARNINGS on its Way Business, that already amount to MORE THAN THE INTEREST on the First Mortgage Bonds. These earnings are no indication of the vast through business that must follow the opening of the line to the Pacific, but they certainly prove that upon such a property, costing nearly three times their amount, ARE SECURE BEYOND ANY CONTINGENCY.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

The Company have abundant means in their treasury, and make no appeal to the public to purchase their Bonds, as the daily subscriptions are entirely satisfactory; but they submit that, for entire security and liberal returns, there is certainly no better investment in the market.

The Union Pacific Bonds are for $1,000 each, and have coupons attached. They have thirty years to run, and bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July, at the Company's Office in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. The price is 102. At the present rate of gold, these bonds pay an annual income on their cost of NEARLY NINE PER CENT.

The Company reserve the right to advance the price of their bonds to a rate above par at any time, and will not fill any orders or receive any subscriptions on which the money has not been actually paid at the Company's office before the time of such advance.

Parties subscribing will remit the par value of the bonds and the accrued interest in currency at the rate of six per cent. per annum, from the date on which the last coupon was paid. Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by

JAMES T. BRADY & Co., corner of Wood and Fourth Streets;

HART, CAUGHEY & Co., corner of Wood and Third Streets;

S. McCLEAN & CO., 75 Fourth Street;

PH. R. MERTZ, corner 5th and Wood Sts.;

ROBINSON BROS., 78 Fourth street;

AND IN NEW YORK

At the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau Street, and by

JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, No. 59 Wall Street, and by the Company's advertised agents throughout the United States.

Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the Bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. Parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A PAMPHLET AND MAP FOR 1868 has just been published by the Company, giving fuller information than is possible in an advertisement, respecting the Progress of the Work, the Resources of the Country traversed by the Road, the Means for Construction, and the Value of the Bonds, which will be sent free on application at the Company's offices, or to any of the advertised agents.

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended, it is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church, Fifth street, next door to GAZETTE office.

Meadville has a Grant Club.

Saengerbund.—This organization will hold a convention in City Hall, this city, on the first and second days of September next.

Will Meet on Monday Evening.—The Street Committee will meet on Monday evening next, at City Engineer's Room. A full attendance is requested, as much business will come before them.

Tearing Down.—Workmen have commenced to tear down the old building on the corner of Penn street and Trimble's alley, preparatory to the erection of the new house for the Young Men's Mercantile Library Association.

A violent rain storm, accompanied by heavy wind and thunder and lightning, prevailed last evening four miles from the city, on the Perrysville road, at about half-past six and lasting till seven. Singular the storm did not reach the city.

Harmony Street.—The workmen are engaged in preparing the curb stone to be placed on Harmony street, the dividing line between the boroughs of Birmingham and East Birmingham. The street will be paved as soon as the curbs are set.

Congressional Conferees of the Twenty-Third District.—The Conferees of the Twenty-Third District, comprising part of this county and Butler and Armstrong counties, will meet at Freeport on Monday next, to nominate a Congressman for that district.

Disorderly Conduct.—Mrs. Myers alleges that Margaret Neely, of Beech alley, in the Eighth ward, has been conducting herself in a disorderly manner, and yesterday she made information before Alderman Thomas, who issued a warrant for the arrest of Margaret.

Water Pipe.—The twelve inch water pipe which was laid on Liberty street, from Clymore to Smith, which we noticed yesterday, is being continued on Smith to Penn street, where it will connect with the twenty inch pipe to be laid on Penn street to Lawrenceville.

It is expected that repairs at Dam No. 2 on the Monongahela river, will be so far advanced by the 10th of this month that the packet boats will be able to come out. At present very light draft steamers are able to make occasional trips, the Zephyr arriving last night.

Assault and Battery.—Conrad Bohen made information before Justice Ammon yesterday, charging William Grupp with assault and battery. The parties reside in Temperanceville and were employed at Woods' iron mill. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Grupp.

Surety of the Peace.—James B. Faber made information before the Mayor yesterday against John Koffman, for surety of the peace. The parties reside at the junction of the Greensburg pike and Butler street, Lawrenceville. Koffman was arrested and held for a hearing.

Brutal Outrage.—A little girl ten years of age was brutally outraged at Sharon, Pa., by a fiend in human shape, named Charles H. Stewart. He was promptly arrested by two women but made his escape and was subsequently captured by the police and lodged in the Mercer jail.

Erratum.—In our report of the organization of the County Executive Committee, the name of our fellow citizen, Josiah Cohen, Esq., on the Committee on Naturalization was misprinted, and we make the correction, knowing that that gentleman will be one of the most active members of the Committee.

Assault and Battery.—Margaret Herman made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters against Henry Schapp for assault and battery with intent to commit a rape. She alleges that the defendant, on the 1st of July, knocked her down and attempted to commit the offence. He was arrested and held for a hearing.

Senatorial Conference.—The Conferees of the Senatorial District composed of Armstrong, Butler and Lawrence counties, will meet at the Monongahela House on Tuesday the 7th inst., for the, purpose of selecting from among the three gentlemen put forward by the different counties a candidate to represent that district.

Trespass.—Mr. John H. Page made information before Justice Ammon yesterday, against James Leech, Wm. Gleuzing and Joseph Welser, charging them with malicious trespass. He alleges that the accused went into his orchard in East Birmingham and destroyed the trees and fruit. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

Malicious Mischief.—Michael Kiggers alleges that three boys, David Jones, Ebenezer and Nicholas Morris, maliciously entered his garden in East Birmingham and destroyed his potatoes and cabbage. He made information before Justice Ammon charging them with malicious mischief and tresspass. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

Painful Accident.—Adam Slinger, an employé at the Crescent Tube Works of Evans, Clow & Dalzell, near Lock No. 1 on the Monongahela river, was very seriously injured by being carried around one of the large wheels in the establishment over one hundred times. His injuries, though severe, are not considered fatal, and it is thought he will recover.

Accidental Drowning.—On Wednesday evening, while a number of boys were bathing in a large pond located on the property of Mr. Bruce, East Liberty, one of them named William Wallace was seized with cramp and was drowned before assistance could reach him. Coroner Clawson held an inquest on the body yesterday morning, and rendered a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

Collision.—H. B. Gibson made information before the Mayor, yesterday, charging John Hanson with malicious mischief. The prosecutor drives one of Sumner's sewing machine wagons and yesterday his wagon was standing at the Duquesne Depot waiting for a load of goods, when, he alleges, the accused, who was driving a heavy iron wagon, run against his light wagon and damaged it to the amount of $5,50. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

A Request to the Church.—Last night about eight o'clock a fine little girl baby of but few days experience in this world, wrapped up in an old shawl, was carefully deposited on the door steps of the Episcopal residence attached to St. Paul's Cathedral. The little one was taken in and will be kindly cared for, although the good church people are not anxious to receive any further additions to the fold in such an irregular manner. No clue to the parents has been discovered.

New Discovery.—The Altoona Tribune says: Iron ore is found in great quantities near McVeytown, and no less than nine rich fossil ore banks, and five hematite banks are now opened. Some years since, a furnace and forges were carried on there, but on account of having to obtain their ore from Jack's mountain, a distance of eight miles, it was stopped. Ore is now found within three hundred yards of the place where the old Brooklyn furnace was located, and although they prospected for ore, at no time did they unearth to any depth.

Extensive Conflagration in Allegheny—Over Seven Thousand Dollars' Worth of Property Destroyed.

Thursday morning a fire broke out in a frame building owned by Mr. S. Marks, and occupied by Mr. John Slack as a carpenter shop, on Middle alley, near Sampson street, Second ward, Allegheny, which resulted in the destruction of over seven thousand dollars' worth of property, and threatened for a time to devastate the whole square in which it was located.

When the fire was first discovered it had not gained much headway, but such was the rapidity of its progress, that when the fire department reached the ground, although they had very promptly responded to the alarm, the whole building was a sheet of flame.

Next to the shop, on the south side, were two frame dwellings, also the property of Mr. Marks, and occupied by Fred. Lehman and Henry Landress, which quickly ignited and were destroyed, the occupants, however, fortunately succeeding in the removal of their household effects. On the north side was a large new frame stable, the property of, and occupied by, Smith & Co., carpenters and contractors, which, owing to the very combustible nature of its contents, was speedily reduced to ashes. There were in the stables at the time four horses and several sets of harness, a buggy, barouche and wagon, all of which were saved, though not without considerable difficulty. Immediately in the rear of the carpenter shop, on the property of Mr. Marks, was a small frame stable, in which were two buggies and a valuable horse and cow, which were removed without being injured. Through the almost superhuman exertions of the firemen, the large frame carpenter shop of Messrs. Smith & Co., fronting on Federal street and running back nearly to the stable, was saved from the fire, though about fifty thousand feet of lumber in the yard was so much damaged as to be of little future value. The firemen perceiving the impossibility of saving any of the buildings to which the fire had communicated, directed their efforts to prevent the spread of the flames, in which they were successful, having in a short time the fire under complete control.

The loss, as near as could be ascertained, is something over seven thousand dollars. Mr. Slack, in whose shop the fire originated, estimates his loss at six or seven hundred dollars, on which there is no insurance. Mr. Marks' loss will reach at least three thousand dollars, on which there is an insurance of six hundred dollars in the National Insurance Company of Allegheny. Messrs. Smith & Co. have insurance to the amount of three thousand five hundred dollars on their property, divided between the Etna and Lycoming, both eastern companies, which will probably fully cover their loss.

In regard to the origin of the fire various opinions are afloat, none of which, however, appear very plausible, and the affair will probably forever remain a mystery. The general opinion seems to be that it was wholly the result of accident, but how that accident occured none can tell, as no person had been working in the shop where it occurred for several weeks previous. In closing our account we cannot refrain from awarding the highest praise to the firemen who labored like heroes to keep the conflagration from spreading. And had it not been for their tireless exertions, undoubtedly the loss would have been much greater.

A Burglar Shot—His Dying Confession.

Some four or five weeks ago a party of three burglars entered a clothing establishment in Ravenna, Ohio. They were overheard by a young lad sleeping in the store, who, seizing his gun, fired at them. With a sharp cry of pain from one of the thieves, who had evidently been hit, the party fled. Daylight showed blood to have been spilled, but a thorough search of the village failed to reveal the criminals. But three strangers had been observed loitering about the village the previous evening, by a citizen who, the next day, taking the cars for Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, was surprised to see the same party on the train just before reaching Pittsburgh. One of them had his face bound up and was apparently in much suffering. The citizen telegraphed the fact back to Ravenna, but if any effort was subsequently made to follow up the clue, in the interests of justice, it was ineffectual.

But, the same day, a man was brought to a hospital in this city, suffering from the effects of a gun shot wound. He received due care in that charitable institution, but it was unavailing. He lingered until last week, when, in his dying moments, he confessed the crime which he had attempted, and acknowledged the justice of its summary punishment, concealing his name to the last. His attendants succeeded, however, in divining it to be Hartzell. He refused to give the names of his companions in the affair, his confession being confined to his own share in the attempt which had brought him to an end so wretched. His dying confessions were made known to the parties concerned at Ravanna, through whom the facts have now transpired. The dying burglar heartily exonorated the lad who inflicted the wound, from all blame, commended his bravery in defending the property of his employer, and penitently resigned himself to the sad end of a wicked life, with evidences of a contrition so sincere as to make the deepest impression upon those who attended his last moments. Verily, the way of the transgressor is hard!

Fatal Accident.

Yesterday morning, about seven o'clock, a shocking and fatal accident occurred near Turtle Creek curve, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, about one mile east of Brinton Station. A gang of workmen, ten or twelve in number, under the direction of Michael Matigan, division boss, were proceeding eastward on a hand car. Just as the car turned the curve, the Latrobe accommodation train, due in this city at eight o'clock came in sight at the usual rate of speed. All of the men jumped from the car and escaped unhurt with the exception of John Redman, who remained on the truck, which was struck by the locomotive and thrown from the track, when he fell immediately in front of the engine on the track. The entire train passed over his body, mutilating it in a horrible manner and causing instant death. The accommodation train was running on its time, but it is stated that the watch of the boss was eight or ten minutes slow, and consequently he was not aware that the train was due. The deceased was about twenty-two years of age and resided at Cavitt's Mills.

Coroner Clawson was notified and went to Brinton Station yesterday evening at three o'clock, to hold an inquest, when the jury returned the following verdict: "That deceased came to his death on the 2d of July by being run over by the Latrobe Accommodation train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, and from the testimony of the witnesses the jury further find that no blame can be attached to the company or its employés."

Serious Accident.

Yesterday evening, about nine o'clock, an accident of a very serious nature occurred at the corner of Pennsylvania Avenue and Gist street, in the Eighth ward. Two gentlemen from Allegheny city, Geo. M. Blackstock and Matthew J. Hall, were riding in a buck wagon, driving a spirited horse, which took fright while passing down Gist street, and ran away. He run but a short distance, when one of the men either jumped or was thrown out, and slightly injured. The horse continued on down the street to the Avenue, running at a frightful rate of speed, when the vehicle collided with a heavy wagon, and was literally demolished. The driver was thrown out striking head foremost on the cobble stone pavement, receiving serious and perhaps fatal injury. He was removed to the house of Mr. Tustan, where he was attended by Dr. Batten.

Central Board of Education.

The Central Board of Education met Thursday afternoon, July 2d.

Present—Messrs. Covert, Craig, Getty, Harrison, Mays, Nobbs, Taylor, Wilson, and Brush, President.

Mr. Samuel Chadwick appeared and presented a communication, signed by Samuel Ross as President, and Charles W. Lewis as Secretary, of the Collins District School Board, stating that Mr. J. M. Little had resigned his seat in the Central Board of Education, and that Mr. Chadwick had been elected to represent said Board in the Central Board.

Mr. Benjamin W. Morgan, also appeared and presented a communication, signed by John B. Bell as President, and John McMaster as Secretary, stating that Mr. J. M. Little, representative to the Central Board of Education, had removed to the State of Maryland, and requesting that his seat be declared vacant. Mr. Morgan also presented credentials as Representative from Collins to the Central Board of Education.

Mr. Nobbs moved that the resignation of Mr. Little be accepted, which was agreed to.

Mr. P. H. Laufman presented credentials as representative from the independent district of Collins.

On motion of Mr. Getty, the credentials of Mr. Laufman were accepted, and he declared a member of the Board.

Mr. Wilson moved that the contestants from Collins be heard, which was agreed to.

Mr. Morgan stated that he represented the Board elected in December last, and that the State Superintendent had decided that said Board was legal, and presented the communication from the Superintendent on that subject.

Mr. Chadwick stated that the election for School Directors last December had been held without notice, and had been regarded as void, and that a decision to that effect had been received from the State Superintendent in the case of another district.

On motion of Mr. Craig, the credentials and accompanying papers were referred to a Committee of three.

The Chair appointed Messrs. Craig, Wilson and Covert.

Mr. Wilson moved that a Committee of three be appointed who shall, at the next meeting, report the proper time for the organization of School Boards in such districts as have been divided by a late ordinance of Councils, which was decided in the affirmative and Messrs. Wilson, Getty and Taylor appointed.

The Principal of the High School presented a report of the result of the examination of the applicants for admission to the High School.

On motion of Mr. Getty, candidates holding cards with the following numbers were declared entitled to admission to the High Schools, viz:

Diamond Pin Recovered.

Some three months since Mr. John McD. Crossan, proprietor of the Monongahela House of this city, lost a diamond cluster pin valued at $700, at the Opera House, an account of which we published in the GAZETTE the day following the occurrence. Chief of Police Green undertook to work up the case, and from the following which we clip from the National Republican, Washington, D. C., it will be seen that his efforts have been successful:

Our energetic and far-famed detective, John Clarvoe, assisted by Chief of Police Matthew Green, of Pittsburgh, succeeded in recovering a diamond cluster pin valued at $700, yesterday, which had been taken from the bosom of a gentleman, resident of the latter named place, while attending the theatre some three months back. Mr. Clarvoe found the pin in this city. Too much praise could not be accorded to these gentlemen for their energy and efficiency, and the dispatch with which they worked up this case will characterize them as the most efficient men in their line of business.

Tuesday's Storm—A Minister Killed.

A sad accident occurred in West Deer township during the prevalence of the violent storm on Tuesday last, by which Rev. A. G. Shaffer, a zealous and earnest Christian and pastor of the West Deer Township United Presbyterian Church, lost his life. It seems that Mr. Shaffer was standing in his house looking out on the storm, when the lightning struck the building a few feet from where he was, and a portion of the electric fluid, glancing off, struck him also, resulting in his instant death. The deceased, who was about fifty years of age, had been connected with the West Deer Church for the past twenty-one years, and was very much beloved for his many amiable virtues, not only by his own congregation but by all with whom he had intercourse. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon, and was largely attended by the friends and acquaintances of the family. Had he lived until next Sunday, he would have celebrated the twenty-first anniversary of his taking charge of the West Deer congregation.

Settling an Old Dispute.

About seven o'clock last evening a couple of muscular young Pittsburghers retired to the metal yard in the rear of Marbury street, Fourth ward, for the purpose of settling an old dispute, in accordance with the last rules of the prize ring. After pummeling each other to their hearts' content, for about half an hour, they apparently became satisfied with the settlement and withdrew to the river to wash off the effects of the evening's occupation.

"The Publication of City Ordinances—A Screw Loose Somewhere."

Under the above caption the Dispatch yesterday made an unwarranted attack on the capable and efficient clerks of City Councils, because, forsooth, that journal experiences some little vexation in obtaining in good season the ordinances passed by our City Fathers. Aside from the injustice of the attack, we cannot see why the clerks should be subject to the will and wishes of our neighbor; nor can we discover any real cause for the sudden burst of wrath and undignified complaint which has been showered on the heads of these most correct and faithful amongst our municipal officers. The clerks, if they desire to do so, can retain in their possession all ordinances thirty days after their passage before handing them to the official papers for publication. This right and privilege they have never exercised, striving at all times to hand them in promptly and in good season for publication. The particular ordinance to which reference is made by the Dispatch was sent to their office in very good season for setting up, had it reached the mechanical department of that establishment instead of being left in the counting room awaiting the managing editor's return to give the order to send it to the composing room. The greater portion of the matter in proof was delivered at the Dispatch office before six o'clock, and the last instalment was in before ten o'clock. The Commercial received the proof at the same time and printed the report entire yesterday morning and we have heard no grumbling from that quarter. We hope the desire of the Dispatch to lay the matter before Councils will be gratified, and we will venture our customary wager of a big Pippin that both of the clerks will be fully vindicated on the charges of bungling and carelessness laid at their doors by our cotemporary.

First Reformed Presbyterian Church, Allegheny.

The congregation of the First Reformed Presbyterian Church, Allegheny, Rev. Dr. Sproull, pastor, have caught the spirit of improvement in Church architecture, which is specially active in our vicinity just now, and have commenced the erection of a new church edifice on the corner of Sandusky street and Strawberry alley, which they expect to have under roof this season, and which, when completed, will be an ornament to that part of the city in which it is located, and a standing mounment to the energy and enterprise of the congregation. The building, which will be of pressed brick, fronts gothic in design, and two stories high, will front fifty-six feet on Sandusky street, with a depth of ninety feet on Strawberry alley. On the outside all the buttresses, arches over the windows and openings will be capped with the finest dressed Freeport stone, which, in contrast with the pressed brick work, will present a very neat appearance. The first floor will be taken up with the vestibule, lecture room and several smaller rooms in the rear. Winding stairs lead from the vestibule into the auditorium, which it is estimated, will furnish sitting room for eight hundred persons, including the gallery built across the Sandusky street end. The pulpit will be surrounded with the finest carved wood work, painted and grained in light oak imitation. One of Emerson's patent gasolites will furnish all necessary light. The ceilings will be painted and frescoed in diamond patterns. All the wood work throughout the building will be painted and grained in imitation of light oak. The estimate cost of the structure complete, without the furniture, is $30,000. James M. Balph, of Allegheny, is the architect, and Mr. William Anderson is superintending the building operations.

Cool Impudence.

An information was made before the Mayor yesterday, charging Joseph Walsencraft with larceny, which developes the coolest piece of impudence imaginable. The prosecutor, J. Goldstein, a clothier on Market street, alleges that the accused, in company with another person, came into his store on Wednesday to purchase some goods, and after looking over the stock for some time, bought and paid for a pair of pants and vest, which were done up and delivered to him; while looking at the goods, it is alleged, the accused succeeded in securing a pair of pants under his coat, which he carried away with him. On taking them home, however, he discovered that they were boys' pants, and entirely too small for him, whereupon he returned to the store Thursday morning from whence he had taken them on the day previous, and asked to have them exchanged for a larger pair. The prosecutor states that he missed the pants shortly after Householder left his establishment Wednesday, and recognized them as soon as they were returned. The impudent man was arrested and locked up for a hearing.

Explosion of a Boiler.

We learn from the Titusville Herald, of June 30th, that at about half-past one o'clock on Tuesday morning, the boiler at the Fertig well No. 2, Tallman Farm, exploded from low and bad water in it, causing the instant death of one of the engineers, Edgar T. Murray, and slightly wounding another, Frank Fertig, who had just come to relieve the former. Mr. Murray was standing in front of the fire-box, at the steam guage. He was blown about forty-five yards to the front, while the boiler went in the opposite direction about the same distance, tearing the engine house and derrick to the ground, and passing through a small tank of oil. Mr. Murray was a single man, about twenty-four years of age. His parents reside at Oil City.

Mischievous Children.

Mrs. Gibson, residing on Hancock street, alleges that the children of Mrs. Costona, a neighbor, are the cause of considerable trouble to her, by climbing over the fence and throwing truck and stones at the house, thereby to a considerable extent destroying the same and endangering the lives of the inmates. She states that she endeavored to talk to Mrs. Costona in regard to the mischievous conduct of the children, but that lady refused to consider the matter at all. Consequently the prosecutrix made information against them before Alderman Donaldson for malicious mischief. Mrs. Costana waived a hearing and gave bail for an appearance at Court.

Camp Meetings.

There will be a camp meeting for Southeast Pittsburgh District on the ground occupied last year near McKeesport, Pa. All persons desiring to have tents on the ground will please meet there on Tuesday, July 7th, to make the necessary arrangements.

The South Pittsburgh district camp meeting will be held near Monongahela City, commencing Thursday, August 27th. It is hoped that every charge in the district will be represented. Parties interested will meet on the ground Thursday, August 20th, at ten o'clock A. M., to prepare the ground, select sites for tents, &c.

Another Riot.

Michael Hacket made information before the Mayor, yesterday, charging James Campbell, Patrick Egan and Robert Denniston with riot. The accused are coal miners, and were on a strike for higher wages, and, it is alleged by the prosecutor, that they went to Armstrong and Mathews' coal works, where he (Mr. H.) and Peter Hamil were employed, and beat and abused them because they would not join in the strike. He further alleges that they conducted themselves in a riotous manner. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the accused.

Local Inspectors' Report.

The quarterly report of the Board of United States Local Inspectors of this port, for the quarter ending June 30th, was presented in the U. S. Court yesterday.

During the quarter embraced in the report the Board inspected thirty-five steamers, with an aggregate tonnage of 7,184 tons. Of these ten were passenger boats, nineteen towing boats, four ferry boats, and two freight boats.

The board also granted licenses to fifty-eight engineers and ninety-one pilots; of the first six were original and fifty-two renewals, of the latter three were original and eighty-eight renewals. They also refused an application for license as second engineer, and declined to raise the grade of a second engineer to first.

Two cases of collision were investigated: one involving a loss of $1,000 is still undecided. The report also refers to the opening of trade with Fort Benton, and compliments the officers and men for the success which they have achieved in the enterprise. The Inspectors also refer to the coal interest, and state that upwards of one hundred steamers are now engaged in the business, the operations of which have been unusually successful during the year up to the time of the break at Dam No. 2. The whole amount of tonnage from this port during the year has never been exceeded. The report states that a number of defects were found in the boilers of steamers all of which were repaired promptly.

Munson's Copper Lightning Rod.

[From the Chambersburg Pa. Repository.]

CHAMBERSBURG, PA., June 1, 1868.

I take pleasure in recommending in the highest possible terms, Munson's Tubular Copper Lightning Rod. I know its merits thoroughly; it has been in use in Columbiana county, New York, for eight years or more, giving the most perfect satisfaction. A committee was sent from the new Episcopal Church, in Hudson, N. Y., to New York City, Albany, Troy, and various other places, to find the best possible rod. After full examination, and by the advice of scientific men, they decided to have this Rod, and one was put on their spire of 183 feet in height. I may also be allowed to say that I am personally acquainted with Profs. Brooks, Tyson, and Prest. Baird, of Baltimore, and have entire confidence in their judgment and scientific knowledge of the matter. I have taken great pains to examine it carefully upon the best known principles of science, to compare it with many, almost all other rods in use, and believe it greatly superior to any other. It is constructed so absolutely in accordance with scientific principles that practically it may be said to be perfect. I do but justice to the manufacturer and a favor to the community in speaking thus highly of what close examination and wide experience have led me to believe the most perfect lightning conductor yet brought before the public. The Great Sacrifice Sale.

Never before in this city has there been such a grand opportunity for the purchase of general dry goods, carpets, rugs, &c., &c., offered than at the present great clearance sale of Messrs. Smithson, Vanhook & McClelland, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street. The stock held by this firm is very large and of the most desirable quality and style. It embraces seasonable dress goods, linen goods, cloths, cassimeres, towels, crash, table cloths and general housekeeping goods, men and boys' clothing, parasols, sun shades, straw bonnets and hats, and hundreds of other articles too tedious to mention. The firm have resolved to quit entirely this branch of their business, and are determined to close out their stock at a great sacrifice. Dealers who buy to sell again can obtain decided advantage in bestowing their patronage at the Masonic Hall Auction Rooms, while retail patrons will be afforded such bargains as never before prevailed in this city.

The Importance of Purchasing the Best Sewing Machines.

Many persons starting out to purchase a Sewing Machine are prejudiced in favor of some particular kind which they buy without examining others. Ater they have used it a while they find out that a little investigation would have enabled them to purchase a much better one at the same price.

A careful examination of all the different machines is the only true way to discover the best. No one should by any means look over Singer's new noisless machine.

No matter how great your prejudice may be in favor of any other machine, a visit to Straw & Morton's, corner of St. Clair and Penn streets, and a careful examination will certainly convince you of the superiority of the New Singer. The most liberal terms to purchasers. Machines guaranteed three years, and instructions free.

The Minstrels.

Carncross & Dixey's Minstrels, now playing at the Opera House, are as much superior to the minstrel troupes which have visited this city within the past two years in their line as Edwin Booth is the superior of any ordinary stock actor. Their entertainments are free from the low order of jests characteristic of the profession, and the music, both vocal and instrumental, is of a very excellent character. The quartette club is decidedly the finest we have ever heard on the stage, and some of the solo singers are inimitable. The base and tenor solos were executed in the very highest style of the art. In fact we have heard many popular opera singers who could not compare with either of them in richness of tone or beauty of execution. The "Buffalo Boys" are worthy of special attention, and should be seen to be appreciated. Remember the matinee on the "4th."

An Excellent Arrangement.

The dry goods and trimming merchants on Market street have unanimously adopted an excellent arrangement, which we think might be carried out in other parts of the city with very wholesome results. Hereafter, until September next, all their stores will close at five o'clock every evening, a change which cannot fail to be very beneficial not only to the employes but to the employers themselves. We feel assured that this system will not in any way injure the buisness, as their customers will readily acquiesce in its object and make their purchases accordingly.

Trade Licenses.

It was advertised in the city papers that all business men requiring State licenses should have had them on or before this date. Notwithstanding the notice given more than one-half of those who should have procured licenses have not done so. It is a very unpleasant business to put people to unnecessary costs and trouble, but I will have to give all the licenses not taken up into the hand of Aldermen, in a few days, for collection, as I am directed by the State authorities.
